September Membership Meeting

The September 7th branch meeting opens the new program year for 2019-20. Our interest groups are eagerly waiting to launch into a new year of reading, playing bridge and bunko, hosting California Cuisine and conversation, planning two STEM conferences, learning and talking about topical matters, discussing Great Decisions, hosting a diversity of engaging speakers, hiking the local hills and trails, and enjoying the companionship of the caring, intelligent, socially-engaged women who make up the Redlands AAUW branch.

This is the best time to invite your friends, neighbors, and acquaintances to come explore the mission of AAUW and what this dynamic branch has to offer. Guests to the September 7th meeting get a complimentary brunch and a reduced price on their first year's national membership if they join that day.

Please make a reservation for yourself and your guest through rsvpmeeting@aauw-redlands-ca.org and indicate who will be attending as a guest, so we can prepare to properly greet them as such that morning. ## The President's Corner – Marie Mitchell

I'm so excited to be starting a new year and so happy to share with you the next Woman of Distinction that was a forerunner in our continuing fight for equity, Mary Burnett Talbert.

Organizer, writer, speaker, and early supporter of a movement that would become the NAACP, Mary Morris Burnett was born in Oberlin, Ohio, to Cornelius and Caroline Nicholls Burnett. The only African American woman in her graduating class at Oberlin College, she assumed a teaching position at Bethel University in the segregated school system in Little Rock, Arkansas, teaching history, mathematics, Latin, science, and geography. She was appointed assistant principal of Bethel University, the only woman ever selected for that position. She married William Herbert Talbert and soon after left her career and moved to Buffalo, New York.

Talbert came to wider attention at the turn of the 20th century when she challenged the all-white board of the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo, calling for the appointment of an African American board member and an exhibit on the lives of African Americans. That year, she hosted Oberlin colleagues Mary Church Terrell, Anna Julia Cooper, and Hallie Q. Brown at her home as part of the National Association of Colored Women biennial conference. Talbert held several positions in the NACW, including serving as president from 1916 until 1920.

In 1905, W.E.B. DuBois, John Hope, Monroe Trotter, Frederick McGhee, C. E. Bentley, and 27 others met secretly in Talbert's home to adopt the Civil Rights resolutions that led to the founding of the Niagara Movement. Although Talbert was excluded from membership in the Movement, it served as the forerunner of the NAACP, and she became a vice president and board member of that organization from 1919 until her death.

Talbert believed that race and gender were unifying factors to resolve class issues. As the struggle for the vote neared its climactic final fights, African American women's associations and clubs appeared to put aside differences and focus on the goal—passage and ratification of the 19th Amendment. Other noteworthy accomplishments included helping to save the Washington, D.C., home of Frederick Douglass and co-founding the International Council of Women of the Darker Races, dedicated to uniting women of color to fight oppression globally.

She died at age 57 in 1923. She was inducted into the National Women's Hall of Fame in 1905.

Get to Know Your Board Member...

Sue Wallace

Sue was born in Ponca City, Oklahoma, and attended public school there until she graduated in 1964. Attending Phillips University in Enid, Oklahoma, she graduated with a B.A., majoring in history and education in 1968. Having received a fellowship to attend graduate school, she enrolled in the University of Oklahoma in 1968 and graduated with a Master of Arts in History and a Master of Social Studies. She began her teaching career in Pauls Valley, Oklahoma, where she taught social studies at the local high school for 15 years. In 1986 she moved to Redlands and began teaching at Redlands High School as a U.S. History teacher. When Redlands East Valley High School opened in 1997, she transferred to REV and became the Social Studies department chairperson as well as teaching U.S. History and AP U.S. History. In 2007 she retired from teaching.

Sue joined AAUW while teaching in Pauls Valley, and when she moved to Redlands, she transferred her membership to the Redlands branch. However, teaching began to consume too much of her time, and a short time later she dropped her membership in AAUW. After retiring she felt she had more time to devote to such an organization and rejoined the Redlands branch of AAUW in 2012. She has served as Secretary for two years and also participated by becoming actively involved in several committees. In 2018 she was elected to the Nominating Committee and was elected President-Elect for the 2019-20 year.

Since retiring she has become involved not only in AAUW, but she serves as co-chair of the Legislative Committee for the Redlands California Retired Teacher Association. She was recruited as a volunteer for the Redlands Community Scholarship Foundation board several years ago and is currently serving as President of the board for this year. She has continued to be involved in the Redlands Unified School District by substituting from time to time. Those activities as well as being actively involved in her church have managed to keep her busy in her retirement.

Bridge Anyone?

Our AAUW branch has four bridge groups, which meet monthly. If you are interested in joining us, send me an email or give me a call, and we will get you on the substitute list(s). As openings arise, they will be filled from those lists. We have groups on the 1st and 3rd Mondays (1:00), the 1st Wednesday (1:00), and a couples' group on the 3rd Saturday. Looking forward to playing with you!

Holiday Boutique News

We've been busy all summer working on some new and fun things for the Holiday Boutique this year. We even have a beautiful contribution coming from one of the veterans at the Loma Linda VA Hospital, which I'm sure you will love. This is just a reminder to all of our crafters that we only have a couple of months to go! Can't wait to see what you will bring this year. If you are not a crafter but would like to help by contributing something that just needs assembly, please let me know. I can really use the help!

Start Smart Workshop Scheduled

One of the issues AAUW addresses is economic security for women. To address equity in pay, AAUW developed both the Start Smart Program, to help women negotiate a fair beginning salary, and the Work Smart Program, to help women negotiate a raise. The College/University Committee has arranged for the first Start Smart workshop at the University of Redlands to be given early in the fall semester, on Wednesday, September 25, 4:00 PM-6:00 PM in Gregory 177. We are collaborating with the University to promote the event during the first weeks of the semester. If you know any U of R students, please let them know about this free workshop.

The Redlands Adult Literacy Program Invites AAUW and the Community to Seedfolks, A Spoken Musical, by Paul Fleischman

The Redlands Adult Literacy Program is hosting a FREE performance of the play Seedfolks by Paul Fleischman on September 7th, 2019, at 2:00 pm at the Contemporary Club, 173 S. Eureka St. Doors will open at 1:30 p.m. You, your family, and friends are invited to attend.

Seedfolks is a story about a neighborhood which transforms a vacant lot into a community garden. In the process, neighbors from many different backgrounds get to know each other and form a community of mutual support. Seedfolks was selected as the adult literacy community read because it mirrors the program's community of adult learners and tutors, who come from many walks of life but learn from each other.

An estimated 23% of the adult population in the United States struggles to read and write. Even in the city of Redlands, the 2010 census showed that over 10% of adults had not earned a high school diploma. Low literacy can impact an individual's employment, health, and participation in the community. Tutors with the Redlands Adult Literacy Program assist adults who want to improve their reading and writing so that they can advance their educations, improve their jobs, help their children with homework, and fully participate in the Redlands community. Literacy is truly life-changing!

You may also know of someone who would like help with their reading and writing. Please spread the word that adult literacy assistance is free and confidential at A. K. Smiley Public Library.

For further information regarding the Redlands Adult Literacy Program, or if you would like more information about the Seedfolks performance, please contact Diane Shimota, Adult Literacy Coordinator at dshimota@akspl.org or call 909.798.7565, ext. 4138. Additional information regarding the Redlands Adult Literacy Program is also available on the library's website: www.akspl.org.

Adult Literacy

Imagine not being able to read....

Would you like to know more about the Redlands Adult Literacy Program? There are currently over 100 tutor-learner pairs, and we continue to have many requests for tutoring help.

Join us at an Orientation on September 30th at 6:00 p.m. at the A. K. Smiley Public Library Assembly Room. Attendees will learn what is involved in becoming a tutor with the Adult Literacy Program. In the Adult Literacy Program:

- Tutor/learner teams set their own weekly meeting schedule.
- Tutors and learners share a commitment to meeting at Smiley Library weekly for 1½ hours for at least six months.

If you would like to volunteer to help adult learners change their and their family's lives through literacy, please contact Diane Shimota, adult literacy coordinator, at (909) 798-7565 x 4138 or email: literacy@akspl.org
